A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Dear Friends,

I've often referred to our community as the jewel of the Inland Empire, but with world-class businesses and innovation, Rialto is fast becoming much more than that.

Our success stories could fill an encyclopedia, from the mission critical work that Martinez & Turek Inc. does as a major aerospace and defense contractor to, more recently, Amazon's new Rialto distribution center, which will help the online retailer meet its goal of same-day delivery.

We're home to globally respected manufacturers such as Biscomerica and Monier Lifetile, logistics and distribution centers for giants such as Federal Express, Target, Staples and Toys R Us, and a robust transportation network that includes two major freeways, rail service and convenient access to major airports.

All of this translates to a quality of life we treasure and are committed to build upon. In the months and years ahead, we will see the Renaissance Rialto development spring to life on our former general aviation airport site. We'll see more jobs for working families and our young people. We'll reap the benefits of wise investment in infrastructure and public safety.

As we grow, we celebrate our diversity as well. Our business ownership rates for women (32 percent), Latinos (48 percent) and African Americans (15 percent) all exceed the state average, creating vibrant opportunities not found elsewhere. Earlier this year, we swore in our first Hispanic police chief, Randy De Anda. In March of this year, the 10th Annual State of Women's Conference was held recognizing and celebrating the dynamic women who represent the community.

There are reasons Rialto is home to all of this – a City staff second to none, leaders committed to our future, businesses who see themselves not only as private enterprises but as community partners, and, most of all, residents proud to call Rialto home.

Thank you to all for making Rialto the crown jewel we've become.

Deborah Robertson

New Development PROJECT

Walmart has pulled building permits and commenced vertical construction of its new Supercenter on the southwest corner of San Bernardino Avenue and Riverside Avenue. Ed Grush is the general contractor selected by Walmart to construct all of the on-site and off-site improvements for the Supercenter site. Ed Grush is a leading commercial general contractor in California headquartered in Signal Hill. On February 23, 2016, the City Council approved a final parcel map for the site. The parcel map will create the out parcels allowing NewMark Merrill Companies and Pacific Retail Partners to construct the various restaurants and retail shops fronting Riverside Avenue. The out parcels project should commence construction within the next 30 days, so that the small shops and restaurants open concurrently with the Wal-Mart Supercenter later this year. NewMark Merrill recently reported in California Centers Magazine that it had signed a lease with Pieology Pizzeria for space in the new center, in addition to Jersey Mike's, GNC, Carl's Jr., T-Mobile, Chipotle, Menchie's, Les Schwab Tires and Ono Hawaiian BBQ. The City contracted with Match Corporation to improve many of the surrounding streets serving the Walmart site.

Wal-Mart completion by the end of the year. Completion of the rest of the shopping center early next year.

Rialto

A Community Message

Forty residents and business owners are getting a first-hand view of how their City works and how they can have a positive impact on our quality of life.

They make up the latest cohort of the Rialto Institute of Progress – a program we started two years ago, and which has gained momentum each time.

Officially, the Institute gives our residents and business owners insight into how local government works, while promoting transparency and open lines of communication between citizens and City Hall.

It has become so much more than that, however, with far-reaching benefits that have exceeded our expectations. Participants have gone on to earn appointments to City commissions or otherwise become active in our community. They're helping to raise the profile of Rialto as a great place to live and set up a business.

We've held sessions where high school students attended, providing not only a real-world lesson in how government works, but encouraging them to become involved in their community now and into the future through City internships and appointments to City commissions. Because of the commitment of about 200 community members to this program, the San Bernardino Associated Governments selected the Rialto Institute of Progress for the 2015 Visionary Award.

We would love you to become part of all this. The Rialto Institute of Progress consists of two-hour sessions once a week for eight weeks. Sessions are held at City Council chambers from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

For information and future Rialto Institute of Progress sessions, please contact Angela Perry at (909) 421-4991, or by emailing aperry@rialtoca.gov.

In the meantime, I would like to offer my thanks to the current class. You truly are making a difference in our community.

Message From...

Police Chief Randy DeAnda

I am truly humbled and honored to be the new City of Rialto Police Chief. I am very proud to represent all of the hard working men and women of the Rialto Police Department and the Community we serve.

Members of the Rialto Police Department have a lot to be proud of. In 2015, the Rialto Police Department was awarded the International Chiefs of Police "Excellence in Law Enforcement Research Award" which recognizes law enforcement agencies that demonstrate excellence in conducting and using research to improve police operations and public safety. As a result of this prestigious recognition, other agencies (city, state, national, and international levels) look to the Rialto Police Department for guidance while embarking on similar research efforts and technology implementations, particularly as it relates to body worn camera usage out in the field.

As we enter 2016, we also have a lot to look forward to. We will continue to focus on the Community-Based Policing goals of our Area Command Program through creative approaches to problem solving, enhancing supportive services for the public and continuing to strengthen communication with our community members. Our Rialto Re-Entry Support Team (RRST) will play a key role in making this a long-term success for the City of Rialto.

The Rialto Police Department continues to collaborate with residential community managers in an effort to establish and maintain safe living environments through the Crime Free Multi-Housing Program. We are in the early stages of re-launching a Problem Oriented Policing Team. The goal is to provide a better quality of life to citizens by proactively focusing on specific and/or recurring issues, related to repeat offenders and problem locations, in order to permanently eradicate the issue and prevent its reoccurrence.

Our department understands that traffic safety is a big concern for our citizens and we are taking strides to ensure our increased enforcement efforts have a positive impact on reducing traffic collisions and reckless drivers. At the beginning of 2016, we added two motor officers to the Traffic Unit and anticipate two more officers will be added by this summer. The Traffic Division will continue to enhance safety at our schools and increase community awareness and education regarding traffic safety.

We understand our youth will be our future leaders and that providing them with a solid foundation, early on, is instrumental to their success. Through grant funds, we are fortunate to be able to offer two outstanding opportunities to the youth of Rialto. Our award winning program P.R.I.D.E. Platoon (which stands for Pride, Respect, Integrity, Discipline, and Enthusiasm) emphasizes on the treatment, prevention and discipline of "at-risk" youth between the ages of 14-17, many of which are already being negatively influenced by peer pressure, drugs and gangs. Our Gang Reduction and Intervention Program (CAL-GRIP) focuses on children ages 8-13 with primary goals of mentoring, strengthening family relationships and educating youth on the dangerous of gangs and other negative influences before they make poor choices that can have lasting impacts on their lives. Through law enforcement partnerships with community organizations and other professional services, both programs provide healthy alternatives to negative behavior, build youth self confidence, teach effective communication methods, and help develop leadership skills for a successful future. I couldn't be more proud of the dedication that our program staff members and citizen volunteers have shown to ensure the continued success of both programs.

Throughout the years, we have invested in technology tools and other avenues that bridge communication gaps and encourage direct community involvement with the police department such as City Sourced, Nextdoor (Virtual Neighborhood Watch), Facebook, Crimemapping.com, E-policing, NIXLE, and our Community Emergency Response Team (TEAM). We will seek out new opportunities for state and federal funding to stay on top of emerging technology as well as meet ongoing equipment and staffing demands for our organization.

Most importantly, we are moving forward as an organization, striving to become the premiere law enforcement agency in the Inland Empire that people want to join and other agencies mirror. As the new police chief, I firmly believe that investing in our employees through training and development sets the groundwork for a fruitful career and a lasting commitment to our community.

"At its core, policing is about community service. It is about making neighborhoods stronger and fostering an unwavering feeling of safety, security and community trust."

Explorers Post #200

The Rialto Police Department is fortunate to have Explorer Post #200, a career exploration program, sponsored by our department and which is affiliated with the Boys Scouts of America. The Explorer Post began in 1975 and has been the starting point for many law enforcement officers. The program is one of career exploration and education for youth ages 14 to 21, interested in learning and excelling in a professional career of law enforcement. Currently, our post has 22 members, all of whom play an important role in our organization; we are hoping to expand our post to 40 members.

This position is very prestigious with the explorer assuming and being assigned a very large role of responsibility. The explorer is instructed and educated about the methods of police work. During the process of growing through the explorer program, fundamentals of discipline, work values and the practices of law enforcement are taught and strictly adhered to.

Explorers participate in many community and police functions which include: traffic control during parades and city events, police patrol ride-a-longs with police officers; special assignments to include gang sweeps, search warrants, DUI checkpoints, and Undercover operations and police patrolled security in addition to many city wide special events donating more than 6,500 hours of service to the department and community.

Each year we go to the California State Officer Memorial in Sacramento, compete in a Nationwide Explorer competition in Las Vegas, as well as participate in our City of Rialto's Open House, International Festival, National Night Out, Halloween Hi-jinks, and any other events that the City may need us for.

The Explorer Post holds weekly meetings on Wednesdays between 5:00 pm - 8:00 pm and address training topics related to law enforcement as well as incorporating training in areas of civic involvement and special projects which benefit the entire community.

The success of the Law Enforcement Explorer Post is obvious, as several of the current officers received their first exposure to police work in this program. Applications can be picked up at the front counter of the Police Dept. lobby Mon. - Fri., 5:00 pm - 8:00 pm.

Volunteers

You can make a difference!

The Rialto Police Volunteers are involved in several aspects of service to the Police Department. Among other things, they assist with traffic control at accident and crime scenes, conduct citizen and vacation patrols, help out at DUI check points, host Neighborhood Watch Meetings, conduct station tours, assist with the City's Hazardous Waste Days and conduct free child fingerprinting at a variety of City and Police Department events.

Our volunteers also assist with many City events which include National Night Out, the annual Christmas Parade, Halloween Hi-Jinks, and the Family festival, just to name a few.

There are currently 33 Police Volunteers and 96 Neighborhood Watch Groups. Volunteers donate approximately 5,000 hours of service to the Department annually. We are indebted to this fine group of men and women who selflessly dedicate themselves to assisting the Rialto Police Department.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer, please fill out the Volunteer Packet located on the Police Department website (rialtopd.com) and return a signed hardcopy to the Police Department front counter, attention Corporal Gerard.

SAFE HOUSE

Rialto Police Department
Electronic Home Surveillance Program

Your home can be a target of opportunity for burglars when you are away on vacation.

The Rialto Police Department wants to help protect residents' property from opportunistic thieves with a new vacation program designed to catch criminals in the act.

Beginning in May 2014, Rialto residents can contact the Rialto Police Department before leaving for any extended period of time and arrange for an police officer to place a small tracking device that can be hidden on items of value that are particularly attractive to burglars, such as home electronics, safes, or other items.

The motion sensitive device is activated once the resident leaves on vacation. Any movement of the device will set off a signal that sends a text to both the resident and the Police Department. Officers tracking software with the device to quickly locate the stolen property and the thief.

Residents wishing to take part in the program can contact Lt. Dean Hardin at (909) 820-2634 or dhardin@rialtopd.com

LOOK Before You LOCK

Never leave children alone in or around cars; not even for a minute.

Get in the habit of always opening the back door to check the back seat before leaving your vehicle. Make sure no child has been left behind.

- Create a reminder to check the back seat. Put something you'll need like your cell phone, handbag, employee ID, brief case, etc., in the back seat so that you have to open the back door to retrieve it every time you park.
- Keep a large stuffed animal in the child's car seat. When the child is placed in the car seat, put the stuffed animal in the front passenger seat. It's a visual reminder that the child is in the back seat.
- Make sure you have a strict policy in place with your childcare provider about daycare drop-off. Everyone involved in the care of your child should always be aware of their whereabouts. If your child will not be attending daycare as scheduled, it is the parent's responsibility to call and inform the childcare provider. If your child does not show up as scheduled, and they have not received a call from the parent, the childcare provider pledges to contact you immediately to ensure the safety of your child. (this is very similar to the 'absence-line' used by most elementary, middle and high schools)
- Keep vehicles locked at all times, even in driveways or garages. Ask home visitors, child care providers and neighbors to do the same.
- Keep car keys and remote openers out of reach of children.
- If a child goes missing, immediately check the inside passenger compartments and trunks of all vehicles in the area very carefully, even if they are locked. A child may lock the car doors after entering a vehicle on their own, but may not be able to unlock them.
- If you see a child alone in a vehicle, get involved. Call 911 immediately. If the child seems hot or sick, get them out of the vehicle as quickly as possible.
- Be especially careful during busy times, schedule changes and periods of crisis or holidays. This is when many tragedies occur.

Conserve Water

Make it a Family Affair

We all had high expectations for the forecasted El Nino last winter, but it would take above average rainfall for several years to pull California out of this extended drought. That is why we all must continue our efforts to save water. With a warm summer approaching, it is important to have a water conservation plan.

A good water conservation plan is most effective when all members of the household work together. A great place to start is by calling a family meeting. Take turns sharing different ideas to save water. Pick those ideas that work best for you and your family.

Here are some ideas to get you thinking:

- Take 5 minute maximum shower (use a timer)
- Do not use the toilet as a trash can
- Save the water used to clean produce to water potted plants
- Add mulch (2-4 inches deep) to flower beds to slow down evaporation
- Turn off the faucet while washing your hands
- Allow your grass to grow longer (helps roots grow deeper and use less water)
- Replace high water use landscape with drought tolerant alternatives
- Compost table scraps and save water by not using the garbage disposal
- Wash your car less frequently and only at a recirculating carwash
- Be a leak detective, check all sprinklers and irrigation hoses for needed repairs
- Use a pool cover to prevent evaporation
- Pull the weeds, they take water away from your landscape
- Write the family's water savings plan on poster board and display it in a common area.

Create a contract that all family members sign agreeing to the water savings plan. Hold each other accountable for water waste and reward those who stick with the plan. Challenge each other to see who can save the most water. A friendly competition always makes things more fun.

JULY 9,10,15,16,17,22,23,2

In this campy musical based on the 1960s cult horror film, nerdy Seymour, a florist's clerk, buys and nourishes a Venus fly trap-like plant, which he names for his beloved co-worker Audrey. The plant ultimately grows big enough to devour everything in its path.

Rialto City Hall • 150 S. Palm Ave. • South Parking Lot

Friends of the Rialto Library is a non-profit group made up of local residents and business members that support the library by raising funds for materials, equipment and programs.

As our community continues to grow in population, the needs of the Library grow as well. Because funding for libraries has been very limited, Friends organizations have played a vital role in the success of our County Library system.

Help the Friends of the Rialto Library by donating the following gently used items:

- + FICTION (hardback and paperback)
- + CURRENT TEXTBOOKS
- + COOKBOOKS
- + REFERENCE MATERIALS (no encyclopedias)
- + CLASSIC LITERATURE
- + HISTORY AND AMERICANA
- + CHILDREN'S BOOKS
- + RARE AND ANTIQUE BOOKS
- + LARGE COFFEE TABLE BOOKS
- + AUDIO BOOKS AND DVD'S
